LAND-PRODUCING TREE. It Arises from the Sea and Adds to the Surface of the Earth.

Every one has read of large islands being produced by the mineral deposits of innumerable coral animals, but few people know that there exists a tree which, like the coral island, arises from the sea and adds to the surface of the earth. Some twenty years ago a schooner, while sailing along the South American coast, was wrecked on a sand bank. The captain of the vessel chanced to have a number of seeds, which we now know were given him as a token of friendship by a Mexican. In the confusion of the wreck these seeds were lost in the soil, took root. The tree which arose is such as is found only in the tropical countries of America.

Makes a Fortune in Mining Stocks and Pays Off Church Mortgage. Shrewd investment in Arizona minng properties has raised Rev. Larkin A. Rockwell, pastor of the West Pullman M. E. church, from his position as a struggling minister on a small salary to a man of affluence. Several years ago he began buying stock in the Azurite, Twine Beauties and other old mines in Arizona. His investments turned out so profitably that a short time ago he was able to announce to his congregation that he himself would pay off the mortgage of $2,500 which rested over the little church where he presided as pastor. At the same time he resigned his salary, as he said his own income was adequate for the support of his family. Rev. Mr. Rockwell was formerly pastor of the Second Methodist church at Englewood. When he accepted the call to West Pullman he found that church incumbered by a mortgage and the congregation hardly more than able to keep up the interest. The mining investments of Mr. Rockwell are reputed to have made him worth $500,000. He is at present in Arizona looking after his investments. He has in view other charitable dispensations on his return.

The case of Mrs. Fred. C. Lasher, Jr., a well-known woman of Westport, N. Y., is one of the most interesting on record. It is an actual fact that headnches caused her head to split.

Two doctors attended me and claimed that I was on the verge of insanity. I was under their care for nine years, but got no relief. Then I tried Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and inside of a year the bones of my head had taken their natural

REV. DR. TALMAGE.

THE EMINENT DIVINE'S SUNDAY

Subject: Spirit of Unrest - It is the Cause of Much Unhappiness-Need of the Church and the World is More Stability-Stop Gadding About.

WASHINGTON, D. C.-From an unusual text Dr. Talmage in this discourse rebukes the spirit of unrest which characterizes so many people, and shows them the hap-piness and usefulness to be found in sta-bility; text, Jeremiah ii, 36, "Why gaddest" thou about so much to change thy way?"

Homely is the illustration by which this prophet of tears deplores the vacillation of the nation to whom he wrote. Now they wanted alliance with Egypt and now with Assyria and now with Babylon, and now they did not know what they wanted, and the behavior of the nation reminded he prophet of a man or woman who, not satsfied with home life, goes from place to isfied with home life, goes from place to place gadding about, as we say, never settled anywhere or in anything, and he cries out to them, "Why gaddest thou about so much to cange thy way?"

Well, the world has now as many gadabouts as it had, in Bible times, and I think that that race of people is more numerous now than it ever was—gadabouts among occupations, among religious theories, among churches, among neighborhoods—and one of the greatest wants of the church and the world is more stead-fastness and more fixedness of purpose. lastness and more fixedness of purpose.

It was no small question that Pharaoh put to Jacc, and his sons when he asked, "What is your occupation?" Getting into the ri-t occupation not only decides your temporal weltare, but may decide your temporal welfare, but may decide your eternal destiny. The reason so many men and women are dead failures is because instead of "sking God what they ought to be or do they, through some vain ambition or whimsicality, decide what they ought to be. Let me say to all young men and young women in homes or in school or college, do not go gadding about among occupations and professions to find what you are fitted for, but make humble and direct appeal to God for direction.

While seeking divine guidance in your selection of a lifetime sphere examine your own temperament. The phrenologist will tell you your physical temper aent. Your enemies will tell you your weaknesses. If you are, as we say, your weaknesses. If you are, as we say, nervous, do not become a surgeon. If you are cowardly, do not become an engineer. If you are hoping for a large and permanent income, do not seek a govern-ment position. If you are naturally quick tempered, do not become a minister of the ospel, for while any one is disadvan-taged by ungovernable disposition there is hardly any one who enacts such an inongruous part as a mad minister. Can you make a fine sketch of a ship or rock or house or face? Be an artist. Do you find yourself humming cadences, and do the treble clef and the musical bars drop from your pen easily, and can you make a tune that charms those who hear it? Be a musician. Are you born with a fondness for argument? Be an attorney. Are you naturally a good nurse and especially interested in the relief of pain? Be a physician. Are you interested in all ques-tions of traffic and in bargain making, are you apt to be successful on a mall or large scale? Be a merchant. Do you prefer country life, and do you like the plow, and do you hear music in the hustle of a harvest field? Be a farmer. Are you fond of machinery, and are turning wheels to you a fascination, and can you follow with you a lasemation, and can you follow with absorbing interest a new kind of thrash-ing machine hour after hour? Be a me-chanic. If you enjoy analyzing the natural elements and a laboratory could entertain you all day and all night, be a chemist. you are inquisitive about other worlds d interested in all instruments that would bring them nearer for inspection, be an astronomer. If the grass under your feet and the foliage over your head and the flowers which shake their incense on tres of the field, be a botanist. If you have no one faculty dominant and nothing in your make up seems to point to this or that occupation, shut yourself up i: your own room, get down on your knees and reverently ask God what He made ou for and tell Him that you are willing to do anything He wishes you to do. Before you leave that room you will find out. For the sake of your usefulness and happiness and your temporal and eternal welfare do not join that crowd of people who go gadding about among busi-nesses and occupations, now trying this and now trying that and never accom-the summer air are to you the belles let-plishing anything.

There are many who exhibit this frailty in matters of religion. They are not sure about anything that pertains to their soul or their eternal destiny. Now they are Unitarians, and now they are Uni-versalists, and now they are Presbyterians, and now they are nothing at all. They are not quite sure that the Bible was in-spired or if inspired whether the words or the ideas were inspired or whether only part of the book was inspired. They think at one time that the story in Genesis about the garden of Eden is a history, and the month after they think it is an allegory. At one time they think the book of Job describes what really occurred, but the next time they speak of it they call it a drama. Now they believe all the miracles, but at your next interview they try to show how these scenes had nothing in then supernatural, but can be accounted for by natural causes. Gadding about among religious theories and never satis-fied. All the evidence is put before them, and why do they not render a verdict? If they cannot make up their mind with all the data put before them, they never will. There are all the archaeological confirma-tions of the Bible brought to view by the "Palestine Exploration Society." There are the bricks of Babylon, the letter "N" impressed upon them—"N" for Nebuchad-nezzar, showing that he was not a myth— and the farther the shovel of the antiquarian goes down the more is revealed of that most wonderful city of all time. Professor Heilprecht, of the University of Pennsylvania, presents us tablets found in the far East ratifying and explaining Scriptural passages which were before in mystery. As the builders in Jerusalem today dig for the foundation of new 1 uses they turn up with their pickaxes the assess the arinnels that were used for hyprodesis. of the animals that were used for burned offerings in the temple ages ago, demonstrating the truth of the Bible story about the sacrifices of lambs and heifers and pigeons. There is the history by Josephus describing on uninspired page scenes which the Bible depicts. On the banks of which the Bible depicts. On the banks of the Dead Sea there are pieces of the very primstone that fell in the sulphurous storm that destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah. Make up your mind whether the Bible is a glorious revelation of God or the worst imposition of the centuries. Why go gadding about among infidels, atheists and deists asking questions and surmising and guessing about the authority and value of a book which involves the infinities? It is either a good book or a bad book. If it be a bad book, you do not want it in your house nor have your children contaminated with its teachings. If it is a good book, your cternal happiness depends upon the adoption of its teachings. Once and forever make un your mind whether it is the book of God or the book of villainous pretenders.

pretenders. So, alas, there are those who gad about among particular churches. No pastor can depend on them for a single service.
At some time when he has prepared a sermon after all praye and all research, putting nerve and muscle and brain and soul into its very paragraph, these inter-mittent attendants are not there to hear it.

But, oh, how the gadabouts injure the churches! Instead of staying in their own prayer meeting or Sunday school they afflict other prayer meetings and Sunday schools. I meet them on the street going the wrong way on Sunday morning and evening, and I accost them in the words of the text, "Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way?"

My text also addresses those who in search of happiness are going hither and yonder looking for that which they find not. Their time is all taken up with teas and yellow luncheons and "at homes" and dances and operas and theatres, and instead of finding happiness they get pale cheeks and insomnia and indigestion and neuralgia and exhaustion and an abbreviated lifetime.

There is more splendid womanhood sacrificed in that way in our cities than in any other way. The judgment day can only reveal the awful holocaust of jangled nerves and the suicidal habits of much of our social life. The obituary of such reads well, for the story is suppressed about how they got their death while standing in at-tire of gauze waiting for the carriage on a raw night on the front steps. While in their lifetime they possessed all the ability for the relief of pain and improved shapes.

all the ability for the relief of pain and impoverishment, yet they have no time for visitation of the poor or to win the blessing of such as comes upon those who administer to those who are ready to perish. Enough flowers in their dining halls to bewitch a prince, but not one tuft of heliotrope to perfume the room of that rheumatic on the back street, to whom the heath of a flower would be like the breath of one flower would be like the opening of the front door of heaven.

Find me one man or one woman who in all the rounds of pleasure and selfishness has found a piece of happiness as large as that half dollar which the benevolent and Christlike soul puts into the palm of the hand of that mother whose children are crying for bread. Queen Victoria, riding in triumph through London at her jubilee, was not so sublime a figure as Queen Victoria in a hut near Ealmoral Castle reading the New Testament to a poor dyreading the New Testament to a poor dying man.

Let all the gadabounts for happiness know that in kindness and usefulness and self abnegation are to be found a satisfaction which all the gayeties of the world aggregated cannot afford.

Among the race of gadabouts are those who neglect their hames in order that they may attend to institutions that are really excellent and do not so rauch ask for help as demand it.

I am acquainted, as you are, with women who are members of so many boards of direction of benevolent institutions and have to stand at a booth in so many fairs and must collect funds for so many orphan-have to stand at a booth in so many fairs and must collect funds for so many orphanages and preside at so many philanthropic meetings and are expected to be in so many different places at the same time that their children are left to the care of irresponsible servants, and if the little ones waited to say their propers at their ones waited to say their prayers at their mother's knee they would never say their evening prayers at all. Such a woman evening prayers at all. Such a woman makes her own home so unattractive that the husband spends his evening at the clubhouse or the tavern. The children of that house are as thoroughly orphan as any of the fatherless and motherless little ones gathered in the orphanage for which that gadabout woman is toiling so industriously.

By all means let Christian women foster charitable institutions and give them as much of their time as they can spare, but the first duty of that mother is the duty she owes to her home.

The book of Samuel gives a photograph of Mephibosheth lame in one foot or lame we see any one lame in one foot or lame. in both feet, we always wonder by what accident he was lamed. Perhaps it may have been in battle for his country, or have been in battle for his country, or he may have been run over by some reck-less driver or some explosion did the dam-age. So you wonder how Mephibosheth became lame in both feet. The Bible for a good reason gives us the particulars. It tells us that when he was a child his nurse dropped him. She must have dropped him ver, hard, for he never again got over the effect of that fall. Long af-ter the accident we find him at King David's table, but still our attention is ter the accident we find him at King David's table, but still our attention is called to the fact that his feet were crippled, though so long before his nurse dropped him. And mark you that to-day in all departments of life there are those crippled in habits, crippled in morals, crippled for all time. The accident happened in this way: Their mothers were gadabouts and neglected their homes, and the work of training them was given over to incompetent nurses, and the nurses let incompetent nurses, and the nurses let them fall into bad habits, told them depraving stories and gave them wrong notions of life and practically ruined them.

But Mephibosheth was taken by King David into the palace and seated at the royal table, so by the grace of the heav-enly King these unfortunate ones may yet be seated at the King's table in the King's palace, though the nurses did drop them so that morally they were lame in both feet.

Now, what is the practical use of the present discourse? This: Whereas so many have ruined themselves and ruined others by becoming gadabouts among occupations, among religious theories, among churches, among neighborhoods, therefore resolved that we will concentrate upon what is right thought and right behavior and waste no time in vacillations and inand waste no time in vacillations and in-decisions and uncertainties, running about decisions and uncertainties, running about in places where we have no business to be. Life is so short we have no time to play with it the spendthrift. Find out whether the Bible is true and whether your nature is immortal and whether Christ is the divine and only Saviour, and whether you must have Him or be discomfited and whether there will probably ever he as more auspicious moment for ever be a more auspicious moment for your becoming His adherent, and then make this 12 o'clock at noon of November 25, the most illustrious minute that you will ever have passed since the day of your birth "ntil the ten millionth cycle of the coming eternity, because by complete surrender of thought and will and affection and life to God, through Jesus Christ you became a new man, a new woman, a new soul, and God the Father and God the Son and God the Holy Ghost and all angeldom, Cherubim and Beraphim and archangel became your al-

Found among the papers of the learned Samuel Johnson was a prayer inscribed with the words, "When my eye was restored to its use," and it is a great mostored to its use," and it is a great moment when we get over our moral blindness and gain spiritual eyesight. That is a moment from which we may well date everything. All the glory of Henry II. of France vanished when in a tournament a lance extinguished his eye, and the worst disaster that can happen to us is to have the vision of our soul put out. If you have gone wrong so far, now go right. If the morning and noon of your life have been a moral defeat, make the evening of your life a victory. The battle of Marengo, lost at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, was gloriously won at 6, and in your life and mine it is not too late to achieve something worthy of an immortal. Start right and keen on. Do not spend too much time in tacking ship. David felt the importance of fixedness of purpose when he cried out, "My heart is fixed,"

Lord Curzon's Alleged Incivility. A writer in the Contemporary Review says that at the funeral, last spring, of Sir William Lockhart, "Lord Curzon alone of all those from whom honor was due, drove separately through the streets of Calcutta, with his A. D. G's behind him, in a dogcart, at a brisk pace, as if to a business appointment, and met the funeral procession at the cemetery gate a minute or two late. Now, Sir William Lockhart was more to India than any mere administrator can ever hope to be, and this scant courtesy on the part of his civilian contemporary on the part of his civilian contemporary was neither kind nor wise. It was a mistake, and one would gladly have omitted to refer to it, but it is the kind of mistake that unmistakably reflects character, and so is valuable to an impression."

Lawyer Must Always Study. E-President Harrison is a believer in the theory that the lawyer must study law his whole life long. Not a day passes but he devotes a portion of it to some text-book.

Storing Silver. Silver that is not in daily use should be thoroughly cleaned, then wrapped in flannel and kept in an airtight box, with a lump of camphor. Kept in this way it will be beautifully bright and clean and ready for use at any time.

The Arrangement of Flowers.

A cone-shaped—the long, lily-like design-vase is one of the best for an easy disposition of flowers, particularly for roses and carnations. To arrange these, place the stems evenly together on something level, so they may be equally deep in the water. The unevenness of the heads-due to the varying length of stems-will be graceful and natural. Avoid all stiffness or forced effects, and above all things do not crowd too many flowers into one bowl or vase.-Woman's Home Com-

Nursery Hygiene. Give the baby and each child a bed to himself. Two single beds take but little, if any, more room than one large bed. Have the sleeping room furnished with only necessary furniture. See that the clothing of the little sleeper is loose at the waist, neck and arms, and keep the head uncovered. If there is anything young children cannot do without it is fresh air. Through the pores of the skin the body is continually throwing off poisonous vapors. If the head is covered with the bed clothes the unfortunate infant will be breathing bad air. The average child suffers from overfeeding and overdressing. Let him learn to be a trifle hungry. Do not take him for an oyster or a clam, and keep him in a stew all the time. Half the time the child cries he wants fresh air or fresh water-wiping the lips of a crying baby with cool water will often soothe and refresh him.-United State Health Report.

Care of the Coffee Pot. An actual experience, and a testing of the daily coffee pot by the mistress will sometimes reveal the fact that it has not been cleaned in a manner to insure good coffee.

In many kitchens is the remnant of the morning coffee left on the back of the range for a mid-forenoon cup for the cook, when not only the rank flavor is extracted from the long steeped grounds, but a certain deposit made upon the sides of the pot which adheres with great pertinacity, and which only a most careful washing will remove. This deposit, if left on, will surely taint the coffee that is subsequently made in the pot, and even to a taste not over critical will injure the flavor of the best coffee in the world. The cook is proverbially sensitive with regard to the washing of the coffee pot, insisting that it is clean when it is not, and it sometimes requires not a little diplomacy to effect the cleansing of the coffee pot and preserve the sweetness of the cook's temper at the same time. The reward will be a much better cup of coffee.-San Francisco Examiner.

Nursery Notes. The child's tendencies should be carefully watched, and everything in him which apears vicious or unpleasant should be nipped in the bud. If a child is careless of his toys, and breaks and defaces them, the proper punishment is to take them away from him, and say he cannot have them for a certain period of time, and then give $200,000,000, was made in twenty-five them to him when he promises to take care of them.

It is very bad policy to be continually buying new toys for a child, who is destructive and disobedient; these are not qualities to be encouraged by frequent rewards of gifts .-If a child is cruel and domineering to its little associates, it should be sternly reproved and taught to behave gently and kindly. Boys should be especially taught to be tender and chivalrous to all girls, and particularly to their sisters. Children who treat their pets roughly and cruelly should be deprived of them No right-minded person places a little helpless dumb creature in the complete power of young children who are crue! through ignorance or through a vicious nature. The treatment of pets should be watched by the mothers of children having them.
